Emilia Sundström's research finds that most women, especially RRK patients, feel they benefit from cognitive behavioral therapy and pharmacological treatments. However, they also find it difficult to manage their symptoms.
Women with RRK also report difficulty in communicating with their healthcare providers.

and we will go to the beach and have fun.

Because of the large number of species, it is difficult to identify them all. However, some species can be identified by their unique features, such as coloration or shape.

Uganda's economy is heavily dependent on agriculture, which accounts for about 25% of GDP and employs over 70% of the labor force. The major crops include coffee, tea, cotton, sugar, and tobacco. Other important sectors include oil and gas exploration (with discoveries in 2006), tourism, and mining. The service sector is also significant, particularly in banking, telecommunications, and government services.

RKK and Zimmo visited Regent 15 on Monday afternoon and Dr. Fred Gruenwald and Dr. John H. Johnson (from the University of Michigan) were there. Johnson gave a short outline of his findings and the following questions were asked:
1) How far from the shore does the
current change direction?
2) What is the current speed at the surface?
3) What is the current speed at the bottom?
4) What is the current speed at the surface
at the time of the storm?
